

WELCOME WORDS

Ladies and Gentlemen,

As Mayor of Chepelare I am particularly pleased to welcome you in our beautiful town!

We are happy that here will be held this 7th edition of the Bulgarian-Serbian Astronomical Conference, dedicated to one of the most advanced areas of astronomy, namely ASTROINFORMATICS, which brings together mathematicians, computer scientists and astronomers to new data and new results in the present terabyte (TB) data explosion as a result of modern ground and space observations and their access via Internet. It is especially important for all of us this conference to be held.

Chepelare supports this forum of scientific thought and hopes that the participation in the conference organization will contribute to its success.

Good luck!

June 1st, 2011.
Chepelare
